

Working Planet

Navigate your way around the world of office personalities

Premier Inn research reveals the personalities you are most likely to encounter in the office - and how to work better together of employees believe knowing how to manage personalities effectively helps them succeed at work

The top office personalities that people would like to learn to better interact with:

22% Micromanager

Tip

Be sure to keep them in the loop

20% Delegator

Tip

Be a voice of reason - make sure everyone's strengths are being utilised

17% Big Talker

Tip

Why not share your successes with them in return?

15% Chatterbox

Tip

Let them know if it's not the right time to chat!

And every office has a Jargon Talker

Tip

Make sure you know your ROI from your ROFL!

Q3
FYI COP
ROI ASAP KPI

Which personality do people most identify themselves with?

28% The Grafter

The person who is heads down and gets the results; a safe pair of hands

What helps you succeed at work?

1

56%

being a team player

2

52%

having a positive outlook

3

50%

being flexible and open to new ideas

Top tips

from Dr Lynda Shaw, business psychologist:

1

Be calm and stay in control; this will earn you respect

2

Make your objectives clear; it will encourage others to do the same

3

Get to know people; find out what makes them tick

About the research
Censuswide polled over 2000 workers across the UK in September 2017

Whatever your style, you'll save time and money with Premier Inn Business.

Find out more at premierinn.com/business

Premier Inn

